

Marc Bradley

Lecturer in Criminology

555-013-7878
mbradley@email.site.com
Rosebud Street, Chicago, IL

Determined, competent and focused academic researcher with two years of teaching experience at an undergraduate level. Strong analytical skills and excellent academic credentials. Seeking to leverage my experience and skills to pursue my research in the field of Criminology as part of the Everly Rutledge Research Grant.

Education

2020 - Present – Ph.D. in Microbiology
University of Clefftohurst, Chicago, IL

2016 - 2020 – M.Sc. in Criminology
University of Clefftohurst, Chicago, IL

2013 - 2016 – B.Sc. in Criminology
University of Clefftohurst, Chicago, IL

Professional Appointments

2020 - Present – Lecturer in Criminology
University of Clefftohurst, Chicago, IL
Taught lectures and workshops in Criminology undergraduate students.

2018 - 2020 – Assistant Lecturer in Criminology
University of Clefftohurst, Chicago, IL
Prepared lecture plans and workshop guidelines in Criminology for undergraduate students.

Publications

2019 – All about Criminology, Bradley & Riviera.

2018 – A Reflection on the Meaning of Criminology.

Memberships

Clefftohurst Criminology Society (President)
Clefftohurst Faculty Association

Grants & Fellowships

2018 – Brina Carter Jones Research Grant

Languages

French - Advanced
Russian - Advanced
German - Intermediate

References

Available upon request